Abstract

Blockchain technology has already started to enhance existing business practice, whilst creating opportunities for new businesses to thrive. We are using the power of block chain to unlock the global digital economy for millions of people, helping them to live life on their own terms, enabling them to embrace their entrepreneurial spirit and find new ways to enhance their lives. Our API enables retailers, both in-store and online, to integrate with Boldpreneur and begin accepting BEENG in an instant.

The BEENG is a requirement to get anything done on the BEE.NG platform, either as a digital or human participant. In this sense, it is the same as water, electricity or the Internet: your appliances need electricity to work, your plumbing doesn't do much without a water supply and your entire automated house is worthless if the Internet vanishes. BEENG is the enabler to advertise/showcase your brand or product in the BEE.NG platform: it provides the opportunity to deliver value and earn from doing so, as well as finding the things that you need to — it is a pure utility token.

It's an important mission, and it's one we're committed to because we sincerely believe it can change the world.

This is a big deal for us because what we do does not just impact the people, but also help the people that work for them, their family and even their customers. Most importantly we do create jobs.

If we achieve this goal, we will add thousands of jobs, and millions of money to the economy.
